"QUEEN ANNE," the first wrist watch with metal side loops, has gained popularity by year ever since it was created over a century ago. A few hundred thousand patterns are in use in India to-day, and their number increases from day to day. Soldiers have come to recognize the value of this watch and its ability to give unfailing service under the most arduous conditions. As proof of this, it is mentioned that over 50,000 "Queen Anne" wrist watches were ordered for H. M.'s troops on active service during the Great War, besides an equally large number for the allied forces in the present

"Queen Anne" is specially recommended for wear and for sporting purposes, as it is a watch free from so many risks.

Wrist Model No. 3.

13" Size - 15 Jewels

Nickel Silver, "Everbright" Steel Back

Price of above wrist model includes a Superior Leather Wristlet and Box.

Mon Abri, Stoneham Lane,
Swaythling, S.A. (Eng.)

"This is to testify that I purchased a watch whilst in India (1916-18), name 'Queen Anne' wrist watch, and that it has kept splendid time, and weathered all sorts of conditions of weather, extreme heat of India and extreme cold of English climate. Whilst under canvas no sand or dust affected it. I recommend any one to invest in one of the West End watches for long life and wear."—F.A.W.
